background to the nebosh fire certificate

The NEBOSH National Fire Certificate course is a globally recognised qualification in fire safety, which provides an overview of the key aspects of fire safety such as law and risk assessment.

nebosh
Accredited Centre

Organisations and individuals throughout the world respect NEBOSH qualifications; the words alone command respect.

NEBOSH qualifications provide evidence of real achievement and employers worldwide use them as a benchmark when employing staff in any capacity.

The NEBOSH certificate will open a person's eyes to a new way of looking at the workplace.

Hazards and risks are explored and the control measures and management systems applicable to them become apparent.

Whether you are looking at embarking in a career in health and safety or just want to be able to manage people and processes in a safe way then, this is the course for you.

benefits of undertaking the nebosh fire certificate

BENEFITS TO A COMPANY

Studies have also shown that NEBOSH training helps significantly in the development of a 'safety culture' in the workplace.

BENEFITS TO AN INDIVIDUAL

There are many benefits to the individual taking the course, these include:

- ✓ Learning about a subject that will preserve your life and that of others.
- ✓ Developing a rewarding and financially beneficial career in health and safety. UK salary surveys have indicated that the average salary of a NEBOSH certificate holder is £30,000 a year.
- ✓ Gaining an NVQ level three accredited qualification that is recognised throughout the world.
- ✓ Gaining membership entry requirements to professional bodies such as IOSH and IIRSM.
- ✓ Gaining the FC1 / FC2 unit which can then used to gain further NEBOSH certificates.
- ✓ Extending your range of services to your existing clients if you operate a health and safety consultancy.
- ✓ Becoming self employed in the health and safety field.

entry requirements

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

There are no specific barriers in terms of academic qualifications or skill to attend the NEBOSH National Fire Certificate course. Many people attend our courses not having sat in a classroom for 30 years! Experience and enthusiasm are as valuable as academic ability.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE ABILITY

It should be noted that the training delivery and all course documentation are offered in English only, and that the course includes a requirement to read the training material and examination questions in English as well as answer the course homework, assignments and examinations in English.

The NEBOSH Practical FC2 also requires a formal report to be written in English. The standard of English required by candidates studying for our NEBOSH courses must be such that they can both understand and articulate the concepts contained in the course syllabus.

the structure of our nebosh course

THE UNITISED STRUCTURE OF THE COURSE

The NEBOSH Certificate is now unitised. This unitisation allows you to organise your learning in manageable blocks and enables you to gain recognition and certification of your achievements as you progress. It will allow you to gain additional units to achieve new qualifications without having to study or be assessed on topics that you have already covered in a previous NEBOSH qualification (see figure below).

Once the core unit of NGC1 has been achieved many students move on to take the units applicable to the Fire and Construction Certificates. For example once NGC1 has been successfully completed, all that is required to gain the NEBOSH Certificate in Fire Safety and Risk Management are Units FC1 and FC2. This would entail successfully undertaking a 4.5 day course including the written examination.

the duration of the course

The duration of study for the NEBOSH National Fire Certificate is a minimum of 69 hours plus private study and background reading. This is delivered as follows:

FIRE CERTIFICATE FC1 FC2:	5 DAYS
COURSE START TIMES AND FINISH TIME ON ARE:	09:00 - 17:00
MORNING BREAK: (APPROX)	10:30 FOR 15 MINUTES.
LUNCH BREAK: (APPROX)	12:15 FOR 30 MINUTES.
AFTERNOON BREAK: (APPROX)	15:00 FOR 15 MINUTES.
FURTHER BREAKS MAY BE INTRODUCED AS REQUIRED.

COURSE MATERIALS

As part of the course we provide you with folders, dividers, pens, pencils, rulers and highlighters. In fact we provide everything you need to make notes and collate your course handouts.

homework

Please note that NEBOSH recommend private study as part of the NEBOSH Certificate courses.

We consider the evening and weekend homework a key feature of this course.

Several questions will be allocated for each day of the course including the weekends and must be completed before the end examinations to ensure a chance of success.

Answers to the homework questions allocated will be collectively reviewed with the student group each day to enable all students to assess their progress and learn valuable examination technique.

the structure of our nebosh course

In order to undertake your examinations at the end of the course you must have first registered with NEBOSH using the examination registration form supplied by us.

The form we supply to you must be sent to NEBOSH to register for the examinations, you will also need to send payment unless you have agreed that we pay this on your behalf and add the cost to the course price.

NEBOSH set a closing date for receipt of the examination registration form which is absolute, so you must ensure you adhere to it. If you are not registered at the start of the course, there may still be an opportunity to register as the first day of the course is often the last day of the NEBOSH examination registration process.

Usually a week before the examination date, you will be sent an exam admission voucher to the address you registered with which allocates you a candidate number enabling you to sit the relevant NEBOSH units applied for. If you are not in a position to receive your mail, i.e. you may be away from your mail address while sitting the course. Please ask NEBOSH at the time of registration to send your examination admissions voucher to us, so the course Tutor can pass it on to you before the examinations begin. The exam admissions voucher is effectively a ticket to undertake the exam and must be signed in the presence of the Invigilator before the examination begins as proof of your eligibility to undertake the examination.

If you are an external candidate who has booked a place to sit any of our examinations, we may ask you for photographic identification, such as a driving licence or a pass port.

It remains the responsibility of the candidate to ensure that they have completed the exam registration process. It will not be possible to undertake the examination without a candidate number.

Please note that NEBOSH will not transfer an examination registration for any reason. If you do not attend the examination you will be marked absent and will lose your registration fee. However, NEBOSH offer a refund of up to 70% of registration fees if your absence from the exam is due to family bereavement or for medical reasons. Refund claims must be made within one calendar month following the date of the examination. NEBOSH have indicated that refunds are at their discretion and decided on a case-by-case basis.

REASONABLE ADJUSTMENTS FOR STUDENTS

Candidates, who find themselves, disadvantaged by a disability or difficulty that places them at a substantial disadvantage in an assessment situation can apply for consideration by NEBOSH, who may advise us to make reasonable adjustments at the examination so as not to place a student at a disadvantage.

The fact that English may not be a person's first language is not usually sufficient to allow reasonable adjustments to be made. However the use of bi-lingual translation dictionaries may be allowed if agreed with NEBOSH before the examination.

EXAMINATION TIME

FC1:

13:30 - 15:30

EXAMINATION RESULTS

For written examinations, the date by which the candidate should receive a written result notification is stated on the candidate's Admission Voucher.

It takes ten weeks to receive your results from the date of the examination sitting.

There is no way of speeding the results process, NEBOSH scripts are marked to rigorous standards and this is reflected in the timescales involved.

Unit Certificates and Qualification Parchments are normally issued within two calendar months of the result declaration date stated on the Result Notification letter.

Certificates provide proof of achievement and are valuable documents that should be kept safe. Employers, professional bodies and academic institutions may ask to see Unit Certificates and/or overall Qualification Parchment as evidence of the award holder's achievement.

To minimise the risk of fraudulent duplication of Certificates and Parchments they are printed on security paper that includes watermarks and a hologram. Certificates and Parchments are individually numbered. NEBOSH maintains records of all Certificate and Parchments issued and reissued. It is possible for you to obtain a replacement if you lose a certificate. However, once a replacement has been issued, the original Certificate will no longer be valid.

FAILING OR BEING REFERRED IN AN EXAMINATION

If a student received a 'refer' result they have not met the pass standard in the examination or practical assessment.

Referred students have the opportunity to re-register for a written examination or practical assessment.

For the National General Certificate, there is no limit to the number of re-sits which can be taken. However, to be awarded the qualification all units must be successfully completed within five years.

Paul Knight

Pauls background is in operational risk management as a risk consultant in the insurance industry. He spent several years as a Principal Consultant for Aviva Risk Management Solutions before setting up his own consultancy company. Paul is an experienced IOSH/NEBOSH tutor.

He has also developed and managed the delivery of many courses, some of which have been accredited by IOSH and CIWM. Paul also delivers health and safety and fire safety training and consultancy services. These include audits, policy/system development and risk assessments including fire.

Paul is a Chartered Member of the Institute of Occupational Health and Safety, a Member of the Institute of Risk Management and a Graduate Member of the Institute of Fire Engineers. He has worked with many large national organisations across a diverse range of industries including construction, utilities, health & social care, publishing and retail.

Paul is passionate about his profession. He sees health and safety as a reason to take calculated risks and seize opportunities rather than obstruct business goals. He hopes that this is evident in his approach to both training and consultancy. He is very proud to be associated with the NEC Group and Oncourse.

the course venue

BACKGROUND

With 20 interconnecting halls, at the heart of the UK's transport network, the NEC continues to be a conference and exhibition venue of today, and of the future. We stage around 140 trade and consumer events each year, ranging from world-famous public shows such as Crufts and Clothes Show Live, to huge international trade exhibitions like IFSEC and Spring Fair, Birmingham.

HISTORY

It was 1976, the visionaries behind the NEC might have made a fashion faux pas with their flared suits and big hair, but they got their vision for the NEC of the future spot on.

Since the official opening of the NEC, the venue has built upon its early successes and now welcomes more than two million people every year.
